

The Prayer Life Of . . .

DAVID

PSALM 7

1. What seems to be the motivation for writing this psalm?
2. Does this sound like total dependence on God, or is there action required on the part of David?
3. Is David's deliverance conditional?
4. If so, what are the conditions? If not, what are God's reasons for granting deliverance?
5. Is there a difference indicated here between David's obligation to his friends and to his enemies?
6. Is God's anger toward the bad guys any greater because their target is David?
7. Is there a guarantee here that things will go well for righteous people?
8. How does the "courtroom scene" in this psalm differ from a modern trial?
9. Which verse makes a good summary of this entire psalm?
10. Which verse makes a good summary of the entire book of Psalms?
